AMERICAN

JUDGING ECONOMY IN A PUMP is neither first cost nor efficiency. Its figuring all the cost—first cost, attendance cost and repair cost; as compared with the efficiency attained, through a period of years.

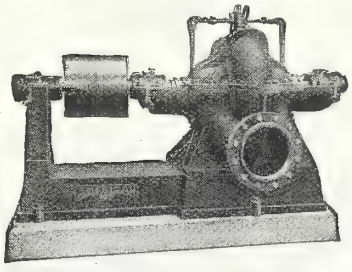
American Pumps are standard, not because they have been made for 40 years, but for the reason that cost of attendance of complicated valves and plungers is given as careful consideration in the designing as nominal efficiencies.

It's the simplest form of a pump for the service of high efficiency, with least expense for attendance and repairs that has won respect for the American Trademark.

AMERICAN CENTRIFUGAL PUMPS represent the highest attainment in refinement of flow-lines of the most modern and simplest type of pump. Made in over 50 styles, in any size, for any service, and equipped with any power.



Catalog 132 is the most complete Centrifugal Pump catalog ever issued. It's yours for the asking.

AMERICAN DEEP WELL PUMPS are characterized by solid brass cylinders, brass plungers, and brass ball valves, single or double acting, as desired—the most dependable construction made. There's 40 years of manufacturing experience behind them: the deepest wells in the world are pumped by them.

Equipped with steam head, pump jack or motor. They are described in Deep Well Catalog No. 130.

LA VERDADERA ECOMOMÍA DE UNA BOMBA no depende ní de su coste primitivo ní de su eficacia. Depende del cálculo del coste total—el coste primitivo, y el de su manejo y de las reparaciones, en comparación con la eficacia conseguida durante un cierto período de años.

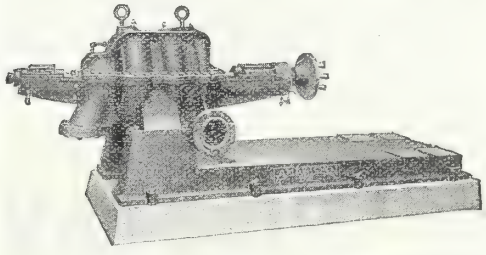
Las bombas norteamericanas se hallan en uso universal, no porque vienen fabricándose durante 40 años ya, sino porque al idearlas se dedicó tanto estudio al coste de manutención de válvulas y chupones complicados como á los respectivos rendimientos nominales.

Es la forma de bomba más sencilla para el servicio de alto rendimiento, con un minimum de gastos de manutención y de reparaciones, y por tanto goza de fama universal la marca de fábrica norteamericana.



LAS BOMBAS CENTRÍFUGAS NORTEAMERICANAS representan el más alto desarrollo logrado hasta aquí en el perfeccionamiento de las líneas de descarga del tipo de bomba más sencillo y moderno. Se suministran más de 50 modelos distintos de cualquier tamaño, para cualquier servicio, y dotadas con cualquier potencia.

El catálogo No. 132 es el catálogo más completo de bombas centrífugas que se haya publicado hasta el dia. Se envia gratuitamente á solicitación.

LAS BOMBAS NORTEAMERICANAS PARA POZOS PROFUNDOS tienen por características principales cilindros de bronce macizo, chupones de bronce, y válvulas esféricas de bronce, de simple ó doble efecto; según se desee; siendo su construcción digna de toda confianza. Representan el resultado de 40 años de experiencia de fabricación; se emplean ya para sacar agua etc. de los pozos más profundos del mundo.

Están dotadas con porta de vapor, gato ó motor. Se hallan descriptas en el Catálogo de Pozos Profundos, No. 130.

Built all sizes from 1 inch to 30 feet diameter, any width face. All pulleys made in halves and clamped to shaft. Bored one standard size and bushing furnished to fit any size shaft. Lightest, strongest and most durable pulley on earth. Made entirely of hardwood and especially finished to withstand climatic changes. Particularly well adapted for export and for use in very moist or dry climates.

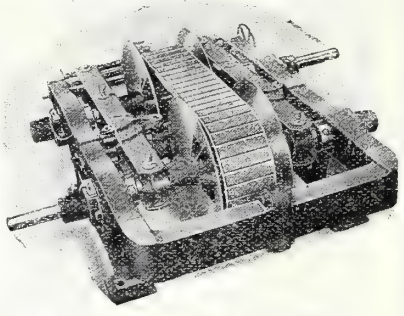
Se construyen de todos tamaños desde 1 pulgada hasta 30 pies de diámetro, y de cualquier ancho de cara. Todas las poleas están hechas en mitades y están dispuestas para encajarlas en el eje. Perforadas a una dimensión normal y provistas de cojinetes para ajustarlas a ejes de cualquier tamaño. Son las poleas más ligeras, más fuertes y mas duraderas del mundo. Están construidas enteramente de madera dura y acabadas de manera especial para soportar los cambios de clima; preparadas especialmente para la exportación y para emplearlas en climas muy húmedos y muy secos.

"THE REEVES" VARIABLE SPEED TRANSMISSION

Transmisión de velocidad variable "The Reeves"

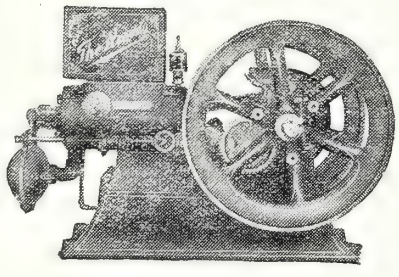
Used to drive any machine requiring speed changes. Installed same as ordinary counter shaft, attached to ceiling or floor. By turning hand wheel speed is increased or reduced without stopping. Allows for wide range of variation and positively any speed between fastest and slowest. Gradual, even change and steady power at all speeds. 10,000 in use. 14 sizes, to transmit 2½ to 150 H.P.

Se emplea para poner en movimiento cualquier máquina que requiera cambios de velocidad; se instala lo mismo que un contraeje ordinario y se fija en el techo o en el suelo; haciendo girar una rueda de mano se aumenta o se reduce la velocidad sin para; tiene un amplio margen de variación y admite cualquier velocidad desde la mayor hasta la más lenta. La fuerza mecánica se gradua y se cambia con igualdad y fijeza en todas las velocidades. Hay 10,000 en uso; 14 tamaños, para transmitir desde 2½ hasta 150 caballos de fuerza.



"THE REEVES" GASOLINE ENGINE

Máquina motriz de Gasolina "The Reeves"



For farm and general service. Use gas, gasoline or distillate. Eight sizes, 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 12 and 16 H.P. Furnished with iron sub-base, wood skids hand or horse truck. Simple in design, understood and operated by anyone. Well built in every detail, economical in use of fuel. All parts accessible so adjustments are easily made. Every engine developes more than its rated H.P. Does more work at less expense than any other similar engine.

Para servicio agrícola y general; consume gas, gasolina o aceite destilado. Ocho tamaños, con fuerza de 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 12 y 16 caballos. Provista de fundación de hierro y polines de madera para moverla a mano o con fuerza de sangre. Su composición es muy simple; cualquiera puede entenderla y ponerla en movimiento. Bien construida en todos sus detalles; consumo económico de combustible. Todas sus piezas están al alcance de la mano, así es que los ajustes se hacen fácilmente. Cada máquina desarrolla una fuerza de caballos mayor que la calculada. Hace más trabajo a menos costo que cualquier otra máquina semejante.

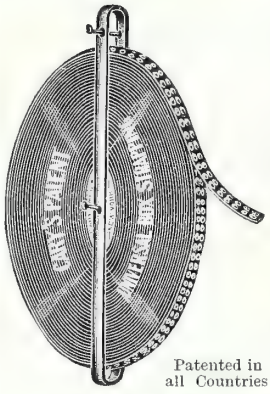
CARY'S UNIVERSAL BOX STRAP



Patented in all Countries

A Continuous Metal Strap with a series of raised bosses along the edges to strengthen same and protect nail heads.

This strap is made of extra soft annealed steel of great tensile strength, through which nails can be readily driven without first punching holes.

Made in four widths, $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{5}{8}$, $\frac{3}{4}$, and 1 inch. Put up in coils of 300 feet each and packed 20 coils in a case.

Every coil is equipped with our PATENT METAL HANGER, which makes it a complete reel that can be hung anywhere without floor space being occupied.

Cary's Patent "KRIS-KROS" Box Fastener

Our latest fastener is as much an improvement over our Patent Twisted Prong Fastener as that was over the old style straight prong.

The prongs of the "Kris-Kros" being arranged at different angles will enter the wood as well across as with the grain, no matter how the fastener is placed for driving.

HIGH GRADE GOLD WHITE ALLOY FOR DENTISTS

HAS STOOD THE RIGID TEST OF TWENTY YEARS' SERVICE.

It is the only alloy offered the profession containing Gold, and is the result of years of careful experiment and research. It contains a high percentage of Gold and Silver, is remarkably Plastic and requires the smallest amount of mercury to amalgamate of any alloy on the market.

We have for twenty years given the profession the best High Grade Alloys on the market. Our success has been due to our scientific methods of smelting, careful attention given to the difference in specific gravity of the metals used, thus guaranteeing to the operator absolutely uniform results.

We make a complete line of Alloys, Cement and Broaches for Dentists. Also Electrical Dental Specialties, Electrical Engines, Switchboards and Accessories and Compressed Air Equipments.

Agents wanted in all countries where we are not already represented.

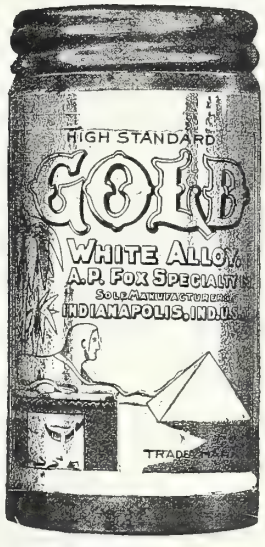
ALEACIÓN DENTAL BLANCA DE ORO, DE ALTA CLASE.

Ha resistido la rígida prueba de veinte años de servicio.



Es la única aleación conteniendo oro que haya sido ofrecida a los profesores dentistas, y es el resultado de años de cuidadosos experimentos e investigaciones ; contiene una grande proporción de oro y plata ; es notablemente plástica y ninguna otra aleación ofrecida en el mercado requiere tan pequeña cantidad de mercurio para la amalgamación.

Durante veinte años hemos dado a los profesores dentistas la mejor aleación de alto grado que hay en el mercado. Nuestro triunfo ha sido debido a nuestros métodos científicos de fundir y a la esmerada atención dada a la diferencia en la gravedad específica de los metales usados, garantizando así al dentista unos resultados absolutamente uniformes.

Hacemos una colección completa de aleaciones, cementos y escariadores para dentistas ; además especialidades eléctricas, para dentistas, motrices eléctricas, cuadros de distribución y accesorios e instalaciones de máquinas compresoras de aire.

Se necesitan agentes en todos los paises en que no tengamos ya representante.

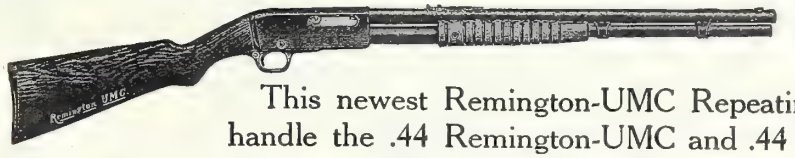
REPEATING SHOTGUNS AND RIFLES—SHOTGUN AND RIFLE CARTRIDGES

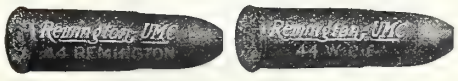
Made to meet the Individual Requirements of the Standard Guns of Every Nation

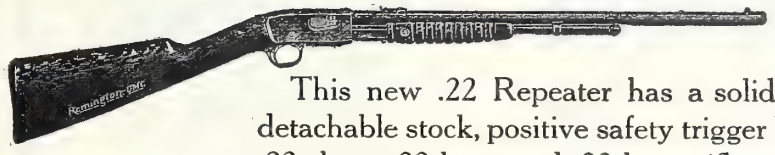
Remington-UMC cartridges are guaranteed for and tested in every make of rifle, revolver, pistol or shotgun made.



.44 Calibre Repeating Rifle

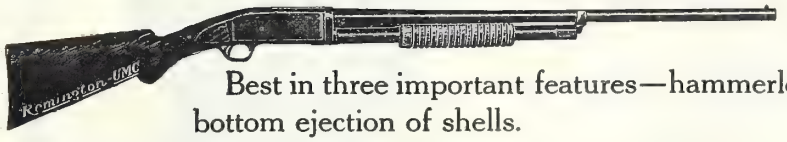
This newest Remington-UMC Repeating Rifle is built to handle the .44 Remington-UMC and .44 W. C. F. Cartridges shown. It has repeating action, allowing eleven shots. The solid breech hammerless construction of this arm together with its perfect balance make it an ideal sporting rifle.





.22 Calibre Repeating Rifle

This new .22 Repeater has a solid hammerless breech, detachable stock, positive safety trigger block, and will handle .22 short, .22 long and .22 long rifle cartridges without adjustment. Perfect side ejection for spent cartridges. Parts are few, compact and simple. This arm is perfectly balanced. To insure the shooting qualities of this and other small calibre rifles shoot Remington-UMC Lesmok cartridges. They have aided in the establishing of nearly a score of world's records since they have been before the shooting world.



.12 Gauge Repeating Shotgun

Best in three important features—hammerless, solid breech and bottom ejection of shells.

The solid breech not only protects the shooter's face from possible injury, but keeps dirt and forgeign substances from working parts, which are wholly located within it.

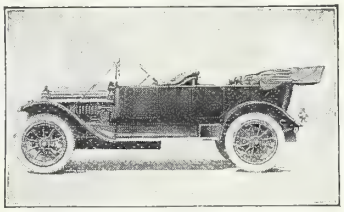
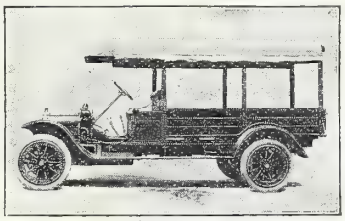
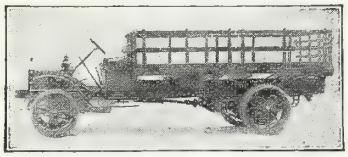
White Motor Cars and Motor Trucks



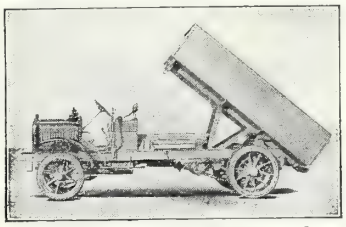
White 7-passenger 60 h. p. 6-cylinder Touring Car



White 1½-ton Truck with standard express body



White 3-ton Truck with standard platform body



White 5-ton Power Dumping Truck

THE White Company has been engaged in successful manufacturing for more than 50 years—the company and its products are internationally known.

White Cars are noted for their simplicity, durability and economy of upkeep, fuel and tires. They have all of the newest improvements and are built throughout from the best materials and by skilled labor.

White Cars are built in 6-cylinder, 60 h. p.; and 4-cylinder 30 and 40 h. p. models, in all body types.

White Trucks dominate the American motor truck industry—they lead all others in numbers in service and are the trucks selected by the largest business concerns and by the U. S. Government for the main part of their fleets.

White Trucks are built in ¾-ton, 1½-ton, 3-ton and 5-ton sizes. All sizes are standardized in design.

Importers and exporters will find the White Line to be a good proposition because of:

1. The reliability and reputation of The White Company.

2. The absolute completeness of the White Line.

3. The standardization and interchangeability of parts which applies both to motor cars and trucks.

4. The White Company's excellent facilities for handling export trade through a well organized department devoted to a rapidly growing export business.

We invite automobile buyers or dealers who are interested in White Cars or Trucks to write for further information. Address—

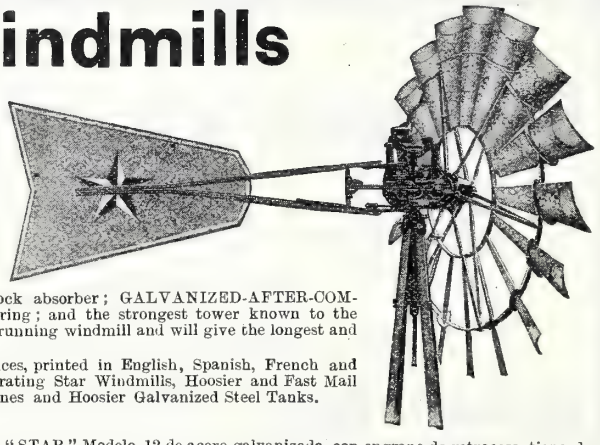
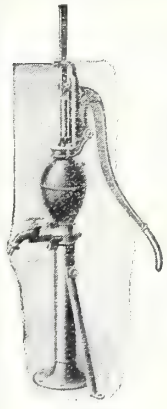
Star Windmills

2 PITMANS 2 GEARS 2



Our Model 12 Galvanized Steel Back-Geared Star Windmill has two pitmans, two gears, two pinions and two wrist pins—practically two mills in one. It has a massive, extra wide ONE-PIECE main frame and a long polished steel drive shaft. Our exclusive governor enables the Model 12 to pump water in heavy winds. It CANNOT be BLOWN out of gear. The Model 12 has removable machine-finished babbitted bearings; anti-sag rudder; an oiling system that cuts lubrication troubles in half; a shock absorber; GALVANIZED-AFTER-COMPLETION wheel; COMPRESSION steel governor spring; and the strongest tower known to the windmill industry. It is a powerful, smooth and easy running windmill and will give the longest and most efficient service.

Write for catalogue and prices, printed in English, Spanish, French and German, describing and illustrating Star Windmills, Hoosier and Fast Mail Pumps, Hoosier Gasoline Engines and Hoosier Galvanized Steel Tanks.



Hoosier Syphon Pump.

Nuestro Molino de Viento "STAR" Modelo 12 de acero galvanizado, con engrane de retroceso, tiene dos bielas, dos engranajes, dos piñones y dos pasadores de articulación—virtualmente dos molinos en uno. Tiene una maciza armazón principal de una pieza, de ancho extraordinario, y un eje impulsor muy largo, de acero pulimentado. Nuestro regulador exclusivo permite al Modelo 12 que bombea agua en los vientos fuertos. NO PUEDE ser SOPLADO fuera de juego. Este Molino tiene cojinetes intercambiables, acabados á máquina y revestidos densamente de metal de antifricción "Babbit"; un timón que nunca se inclina; un sistema de engrasamiento que reduce á la mitad las dificultades de lubricación; un absorbechoques; una rueda GALVANIZADA DESPUÉS de su acabamiento; un muelle de compresión de acero para el regulador; y la torre más fuerte conocida por la industria de molinos de viento. Es un molino de viento poderoso, que funciona fácil y uniformemente y que prestará el servicio más largo y eficiente.

Pídanse catálogos y precios, publicados en inglés, español, francés y alemán, que describen y ilustran los Molinos de Viento "STAR," las Bombas "HOOSIER" y "FAST MAIL," los Motores de Benzina "HOOSIER" y los Tanques "HOOSIER" de acero galvanizado.

The KANT TRADE KRACK MARK K is made of linen, but the linen is waterproof. Therefore, it can be washed by the wearer anytime and anywhere.

Collars usually wear out first at the front fold. To prevent, this the KANT TRADE KRACK MARK K has patented flexible lips which relieve all strain and therefore the collar wears very much longer than any other kind.

A New Collar.

Un Nuevo Cuello.

El cuello KANT TRADE KRACK MARK K es hecho de lienzo, pero el lienzo es impermeable. Asi el que le gasta puede lavar cuando y donde le gusta.

Ordinariamente cuellos se deterioran al principio al pliegue frontero. Para evitar eso la casa KANT TRADE KRACK MARK K ha obtenido una patente para "labios" flexibles que relevan toda tensión y asi este cuello dur mucho más tiempo que todosotros.

PEDID EL CATÁLOGO.

The Daisy Fly Killer

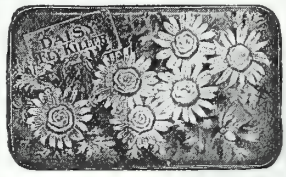
El Mata-Moscas "Margarita"

El mata-moscas "Margarita" es una caja metálica de ornamento herméticamente cerrada provista de cinco agujeros en los que se fijan unas mechas de fieltro que contienen una materia para matar moscas. Cuando está llena de agua la caja, y el tapón puesto en su sitio, y se agita completamente (manteniéndola nivelada), la materia destructora de moscas que está dentro se mezcla con el agua y es absorbida por las mechas que se humedecen y endulzan con el contenido de la caja. Las moscas, atraidas por la humedad y dulzura de las mechas, pican con gusto en estas y al poco tiempo caen muertas cerca del mata-moscas.

Colocado en cualquier parte, atrae y mata todas las moscas.

Es bonito, limpio, de ornamento, conveniente, barato. Dura toda la estación. Está construido de metal. No puede derramarse ni tumbarse. No mancha ni causa daño a cosa alguna. Se garantiza su eficacia.

Precio $1.25 por docena. Franco a bordo en la fábrica.



The Daisy Fly Killer is a tightly sealed ornamental metal box provided with five holes into which are secured felt wicks, and contain a fly-killing material. When filled with water and the cork replaced, and thoroughly shaken (keeping it level), the fly-killing material inside mixes with the water and is absorbed through the wicks, which becomes moist and sweet from the inside contents. The flies, being attracted by the moisture and sweetness in the wicks, get a taste of it and will soon die near the fly-killer.

Placed Anywhere, Attracts and Kills all Flies.

Neat, clean, ornamental, convenient, cheap. Lasts all season. Made of metal; cannot spill or tip over; will not soil or injure anything. Guaranteed effective.

Price $1.25, per dozen.

TANGLEFOOT FLY PAPER.

PAPEL "TANGLEFOOT"

para coger moscas.

El "TANGLEFOOT" es un destructor de moscas que no es venenoso. Coge cincuenta billones de moscas cada año, muchísimas más que todos los otros medios reunidos.

Calidad: Ha sido perfeccionada continuamente; cada caja ha sido, es y será garantizada y protegida por nosotros.

Imitaciones: No obstante haber fallado absolutamente los imitadores, nuestro precio ha sido rebajado gradualmente hasta llegar a ser ahora la mitad del precio original.

El "TANGLEFOOT" coge y destruye los germenes lo mismo que las moscas.

TANGLEFOOT

The Non-Poisonous Fly Destroyer,

Catches fifty billion flies each year—vastly more than all other means combined.

Quality: Has been continually improved; every case has been, is, and will be, guaranteed and protected by us.

Imitators: Notwithstanding the absolute failure of all imitators our price has gradually decreased until it is now half the original.

TANGLEFOOT catches and destroys the Germ as well as the Fly.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO WASTE HIGH SPEED STEEL?

DO YOU KNOW

That out of one 6-inch tool bit you can actually use 5 inches of the steel, while out of two 3-inch tool bits you can actually use but 4 inches?

That Double Grip Tool Holders, by permitting tool bits of any length to be used, save all this waste? And that they give you a more solid and dependable tool?

Can you afford to ignore the economy of the Double Grip?

Every Tool Guaranteed

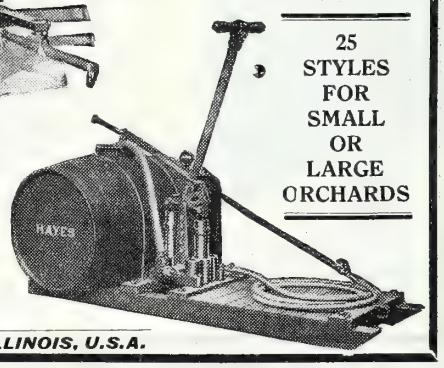
We manufacture 25 styles of large and small Hand and Power Sprayers for orchards, field crops, shade trees, hops, poultry, painting, home and garden use.
Complete outfits of Separate Pumps, Hose, Nozzles, Fittings, Bamboo Rod, etc.



25 STYLES FOR SMALL OR LARGE ORCHARDS

HIGH PRESSURE SPRAYING is 100 per cent. efficient. The more thorough the spraying operation the greater is the profit from the crop. HAYES SPRAYERS are guaranteed to maintain 300 lbs. pressure. 300 lbs. completely atomizes the solution into a penetrating fog-like mist that seeks out and adheres to every particle of foliage. The atomization is so perfect that drops will not form on the leaf and fall off.

LITTLE BEAUTY NIGHT LAMP.

Made of brass and handsomely nickel-plated. Looks like an electric lamp when lighted. Will hang on the wall or sit on the table. It burns ordinary kerosene oil and from one filling will burn 40 hours without odor. Affords a steady dim light through the night and is positively incomparable for the sick room. Recommended by physicians and nurses.

EASILY CLEANED AND RE-WICKED.

The wick will last three years without renewal. Ornamental and Safe.

LÁMPARA DE NOCHE "PEQUEÑA HERMOSURA."

Fabricada de latón y bellamente niquelada; cuando está encendida parece una lámpara eléctrica; se puede colgar en la pared o colocarla sobre la mesa. Consume kerosina ordinaria y una vez llena arderá durante 40 horas sin mal olor. Produce una luz fija y suave toda la noche y es positivamente incomparable para un cuarto de enfermo. Está recomendada por los médicos y las enfermeras.

Se limpia y se renueva la mecha fácilmente; la mecha dura tres años sin renovación. Es segura y sirve de adorno.

BRAZING

Is often the cheapest and quickest way to repair broken parts of Presses, Sewing Machines, Lawn Mowers, Threshers, Reapers, Pumps, Automobiles, Engines, Machinery, Tools, Agricultural Implements, and anything else made of Cast Iron, Wrought Iron or Steel.

A high degree of heat, brass spelter and a good flux are required. We make "BRAZIRON" Compound for brazing Cast Iron, "FLOZON" Compound for brazing Steel and Wrought Iron.

Our compounds are used in a large number of shops and factories in the United States, Canada, South America, Central America, Europe and India.

Shops having a forge, gas and air blast, gasoline or kerosene torch, need to buy the brass spelter and compounds only; others need to buy the apparatus as well.

We are prepared to furnish shop equipments at all prices, ranging from the simple and inexpensive burners for gas and air, to the gasoline torch, kerosene torch and elaborate oxy-acetylene plant.

Write for full information & prices. Good Agents wanted.

LOS SOPORTES PARA PUERTAS "LANE" tienen el marco acerado popular en forma de U que fué introducido al mundo en primer lugar por nosotros hay 30 años.
Propios á marchas de cualquier longitud—en seis tamaños para puertas de cualquier peso.
Cojinetes cilíndricos sobre un forro de acero, cuidadosamente y bien hecho, hacen un punto de apoyo perfecto que no tiene necesidad de ser engrasado y que es perdurable. La muesca de la rueda es hecha para contener hierro plano de una anchura de 12-14 milimetros según su tamaño.
Nuestros precios son muy razonables.
Pídase catálogo mostrando otros estilos. Pida por medio de cualquier exportador ó escribasenos directamente en su propio idioma.

LANE BROTHERS CO.

LANE DOOR HANGERS have the popular U shape steel frame which was first introduced to the world by us 30 years ago.

They are adapted for any length run—in six sizes for any weight of Door. Roller bearings on a steel bushing carefully and well made make a perfect bearing that does not require oiling, and is everlasting.

The groove in the wheel is made to receive flat iron from 12-14 millimeters in width according to size.

Our prices are very moderate.

Send for catalog showing other styles. Order through any exporter, or correspond with us in your own language.

ROBERT WILLSON, New York.

Who was for 10 years with "Bradstreet's." 5 years with R. G. Dun & Co. 13 years with The Credit & Audit Co. of America.

Is now in business for himself and has unequalled facilities for furnishing the most complete credit information in all parts of the world, either to American or foreign manufacturers selling goods abroad or to serving foreign manufacturers, exporters or bankers, doing business in America or any other part of the world.

MR. WILLSON has the proud record of never having had a concern fail upon which his latest reports prior to the failure were not unfavorable and his reports have foreshadowed many disastrous failures and prevented many large losses.

Experienced credit investigators consult houses likely to sell to subjects of inquiry and obtain their opinions and experience including how long the account has been had, highest credit, usual credit, terms, payments and other general information, also a statement of assets and liabilities if possible, as well as antecedents and history.

The business is under the personal supervision of Mr. Willson who has had twenty-eight years' experience in special credit investigations, having personally covered the greater part of the United States, and few men have had a larger experience in every department of credit investigation.

Careful attention given to collections also. Highest commercial and banking references furnished.

Correspondence invited for single inquiries or annual contracts at reduced rates.

THE PHILIPPINES

THE Philippine Islands are a group situated in the northern portion of the East Indian Archipelago. They comprise upwards of 2,000 islands, and contain an area of 140,000 square miles, with a population of 7,635,426 (1903). Two of the islands, Luzon in the north of the group and Mindanao in the south, are by far the largest. The general system of intercommunication between the numerous islands of the Philippines is maintained by local steamers under Government supervision. The principal city and port is Manila, in the island of Luzon; the other ports open for trade here are Iloilo, in the island of Panay, and Cebu.

The principal articles of export from Manila, Cebu and Iloilo are hemp, sugar, copra, tobacco and cigars.

The imports consist principally of cotton goods, rice, iron and steel.

The Export and Import trade of the Philippine Islands during 1912-13 amounted to $110,010,859.

The Monetary Unit of the Philippine Islands is the dollar, about 2s. 1d. British and $0.50 United States.

CEBU (ZEBU), on the Island of Cebu, 36 hours from Manila, has a population of 60,000. It is the most important port of the Visayan group, being the most centrally situated and having the best harbor and docks. The Province of Cebu, which is principally composed of the Island of Cebu, is the most thickly populated in the Philippine Islands, having a population of approximately 850,000 people. The Customs Bureau rank Cebu as the second port of the Philippine Islands, Manila being the first. In imports, owing to its situation as a distributing centre, it is only exceeded by Manila, while in exports it is practically even with Iloilo, the third city in the islands. The principal exports are hemp (42,305 tons in 1912) and copra (34,375 tons, 1912).

ILOILO, or Yloilo, on the Island of Panay (37 hours from Manila by steamer), has a population of 39,000 inhabitants. It is the most important port, being the central point of the Visayan group, and situated in one of the most thickly populated and industrious provinces. The harbour is excellent, being completely protected by an island which lies immediately before it.

The principal trade of this port is the export of sugar to the United States, China & Japan (130,365 tons in 1912).

PANGASINAN is a province in the Island of Luzon to the north of Manila. The principal exports are rice, sugar, spices and straw hats (manufactured by natives). The business of Pangasinan is carried on at Dajupan, some 18 miles by land and 14 miles by sea from Sual. The population of Dajupan is about 22,000. Business is chiefly confined to Manila, coasting vessels carrying rice, sugar, besides sugar bags, straw hats (made in this province) and sapan wood; returning with European merchandise from the capital to Chinese dealers, of whom there are some 25 established in Dajupan. A railway between Manila and Dajupan has been made, and the great bulk of produce from Pangasinan now goes overland to Manila.

THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII

THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII was annexed by the U. S. America in 1898, and forms one of the Territories of that Republic. It is situated in the North Pacific, between latitude 18° and 22° north and longitude 154° and 160° west, and consists of a group of eight islands (Hawaii, Kahoolawe, Kauai, Lanai, Maui, Molokai, Niihau and Oahu) of which Hawaii is the largest. Honolulu, the capital, is situated on the island of Oahu. The total area of the group is about 6,649 square miles, and the population, according to the 1910 census, was 191,909 (Kauai and Niihau, 23,952; Oahu, 82,028; Hawaii, 55,382; Kahoolawe, Lanai, Maui and Molokai, 29,762; Kalawao, 785).

Sugar is by far the most important article of export. In the sugar industry alone there are over £15,000,000 invested. Nearly the whole of the trade is carried on with the United States of America, owing to the protective tariff of that country, which has been extended to these islands.

The Export and Import Trade of the Territory of Hawaii in 1912 amounted to $86,535,847.

EXPORTS. Articles.	Value. Dollars.

ACROSS THE ANDES TO CHILE, from Buenos Aires to Valparaiso in 38 Hours,

Via Cordilleras de los Andes.

In the year 1892 the "EXPRESO VILLALONGA" began for the first time the task of organizing the service of Passengers, Luggage, Parcels, Valuables, etc., viá the Andes, and communications between the Republics of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, which required a sea journey of 12 or more days round Cape Horn, was shortened to 5 days, although Passengers may have suffered a few inconveniences due to lack of suitable accommodation in the mountains.

The passage of the Andes to-day offers neither difficulties nor dangers of any description. This is the only acceptable route for travellers between Europe and the Pacific occupying as it does only 38 hours, passed in well-fitted Railway Saloons, Restaurants and Dining Cars, and comfortable Sleeping Cars.

Transandine Railway.

This line runs between Mendoza and Los Andes, following the course of the River Mendoza, as far as Las Cuevas flanked now on the right and now on the left hand by towering mountains along the slopes of which it passes, here on a ledge of rock and there through a tunnel, crossing numerous bridges spanning the river.

This service is open all the year round. Trains leave Buenos Aires on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays at 8.20 a.m. The National Transport Co., "EXPRESO VILLALONGA," in Buenos Aires, act as Sole Agents for the Pacific, Argentine and Chilian Trasandine Railway Companies, from whom THROUGH TICKETS for the INTERNATIONAL TRAINS can be obtained. These Railway Companies have also opened their own Offices in Valparaiso and Santiago (Chili).

En route there is a stop at Cacheuta, noted for its thermal baths, and the beautiful Uspallata Valley which opens the pass between the Argentine and Chile is then entered; amongst other natural objects of interest, the Puente del Inca, one of the natural wonders of the world, calling for special mention. The sulphur and lime hot baths here are noted as a cure for rheumatism and skin diseases.

This part of the journey is very grand and striking, surrounded as it is on all sides by the lofty Andes. At this point, 3,100 metres above sea level, there is a beautiful lake of considerable dimensions and of a beautiful clearness.

The panorama on the Western Slopes of the Andes is very picturesque and attractive, the mild climate clothing them with verdure and forest.

The journey between Los Andes and Valparaiso or Santiago is peculiarly appreciable, being through cultivated valleys and along the slopes of the lower hills.

BAHIA BLANCA is the chief town in the department of the same name, 420 miles south of Buenos Ayres; the population in 1909 was 70,000. The Military Port (Puerto Militar), Port Belgrano, where there is Government dry dock, arsenal and line of batteries, is situated on the estuary between the town and the light-ship. Another commercial port near Puerto Militar has been commenced; it is being constructed by the Régie Générale de Chemins de Fer et Travaux Publics, Paris. The Rosario and Puento Belgrano Railway has been taken over by the "Farquhar Syndicate Argentine Railways Co." who intend making the terminus of their railway in Bahia Blanca; it is now open for goods and passenger traffic, and runs from Rosario to Puerto Militar, a distance of about 800 kilomètres; the railway has a mole at the Puerto Militar terminus, with accommodation for loading and discharging four ocean-going steamers. The Southern Railway Co.'s wharves at Ingeniero White can accommodate 12 to 14 ocean going steamers of the largest size. The Buenos Aires and Pacific Railway Co. have also a port and wharves for discharging and loading ocean-going steamers, fitted with electric cranes, where 10 large vessels can be berthed; their harbour is situated about 2 miles higher up the Estuary than the F.C. Sud Mole; harbour accommodation is now being enlarged to accommodate 18 or 20 ocean-going vessels. The freezing factory at Cuatreros (about 4 miles above the Paci c wharves) has a mole, and sufficient depth of water to load direct into ocean-going steamers. The principal export trade of Bahia Blanca is in wheat, wool and general produce. the import trade with the increased harbour accommodation is developing rapidly.

PUENTE DEL INCA, PROVINCE OF MENDOZA. This locality possesses one of the greatest wonders of the world, in the shape of a natural bridge extending over the river Mendoza, a mighty mountain torrent. The arch of the bridge is beautifully decorated and adorned by stalactites formed by the constant dripping of the mineral waters which abound hereabouts, and underneath which some of the most efficacious hot mineral baths exist. Their properties are various, consisting chiefly of potash, soda, iron, ammonia, lime, magnesia, &c., the temperature ranging between 26° to 37·5° centigrade, and are renowned throughout the world for the extraordinary cures effected in cases of gout, rheumatism, stomachic and nervous disorders. It possesses a first-class English hotel, with a resident physician. It is situated about 9,000 ft. above sea level, and is surrounded by some of the most magnificent mountain scenery in the world. It is the centre for mountain climbers, the Aconcagua, Tupungato and other high peaks of the Andes being in close proximity. The season extends from November to April.

See Advertisement of Expreso Villalonga, facing commencement of South America.

ROSARIO DE SANTA FÉ is, after Buenos Ayres, the most important commercial city of this Republic, and is the natural highway to and from the vast interior; the trade is therefore not wholly a local one, as it supplies some of the interior provinces with a large portion of the imported merchandise which they consume. The population of Rosario is 210,000. The province of Santa Fé, of which Rosario is the principal city and port, is the centre of agriculture of the Argentine Republic. The French Company engaged in constructing the new port is rapidly improving the river frontage, and Rosario will shortly possess a port working on modern lines.

The imports consist chiefly of provisions, span and woven goods, lumber, hardware, iron, agricultural machinery and implements, building materials, combustibles, drugs, tobacco, wines, spirits and wire fencing; the principal articles exported are bone and bone-ash, horns, hair, hides, wool and lard; agricultural products: wheat, linseed, maize, potatoes and hay &c.; lumber &c. minerals (transit trade); sundries, skins &c. Wire for fencing purposes and corrugated iron for roofing is also largely imported.

Lloyd's Agents, Barnett & Co.

There is a Commercial Exchange and an Italian Chamber of Commerce.

SANTA FÉ, capital of the province of the same name, is a city of about 50,000 inhabitants, situated on the left bank of the River Parana, and is the centre of a vast grain growing district. At the end of 1910 the Port of Santa Fé was opened, affording splendid accommodation for shipping. The principal exports are wheat, linseed, quebracho wood and extracts, bran, flour, hay, potatoes, hides, bones, pea-nuts and vegetable oils. The imports come direct since the new port has been working. There are facilities for handling any class of cargo—cranes up to 20 tons.

BOLIVIA

THE area of this Republic is about 911,146 square miles. The population in 1906 was estimated at 2,180,710, including uncivilized Indians.

The natural wealth of Bolivia is very great; the alpaca, llama and the vicuña abound, and also the chinchilla, the nutria and other fur bearing animals; valuable cabinet and building woods and also dye woods are plentiful; cotton, coca, cocoa and caoutchouc are also produced; the latter is now exported in large quantities from the eastern territories.

Gold, silver, copper, tin, lead, iron and bismuth are also abundant; in fact, the great business of the country is silver and tin mining; the second largest silver mine in the world is that of Huanchaca.

COMMERCE.—The principal articles of export are: Silver, tin, copper, bismuth, wolfram and india rubber.

The Minister in London is: Col. Don Pedro Suarez; Legation, 74 Compayne gardens, West Hampstead N W.

The British Minister & Consul-General for Bolivia is: Cecil William Gustaf Gosling esq. residing at La Paz.

Consul-General, London, Col. Don Pedro Suarez, 81 Cannon street E C; Ernest Walter Hardy Beaton, 47 to 51 King William street E C (vice).

Consul-General at Liverpool, Don Nestor Cueto Vidaurre.

Consuls—Birmingham, George Bryson; Cardiff & Swansea, John Bovey; Dublin, J. P. Lynch; Edinburgh & Leith, John Sharp; Glasgow, Geo. L. Hamilton; Liverpool, Richard Arthur Barker; J. CAMARGO, capital of the province of Cinti, a small town between Sucre and Tarija, locally important as the centre of a considerable vine growing industry. An Anglo-Argentine enterprise, The Pilaya Gold Syndicate, has commenced work on the river San Juan on a large scale. A reef of auriferous rock exists in the district, and the river San Juan has numerous gold-washings on its banks, at present only roughly worked by Indians. Want of good roads has hitherto kept this district from being properly exploited. There are several wholesale houses, all branches of Sucre and Tarija businesses.

CHALLAPATA, station of the Uyuni and Oruro railway, and forwarding depôt for Sucre, Potosi and several mining districts.

COCHABAMBA, population 25,000, is the most important agricultural centre of Bolivia, now being placed in a better position than formerly, owing to the opening of cart roads to Oruro. The imports are from Germany, France, Italy, Spain and England, and lately from U.S. America.

COROCORO, the capital of the province of Pacajes, is a town of some 5,000 inhabitants, situated in an important copper mining district, near the river Desaguadero, 100 kilomètres from La Paz, connected with Arica and La Paz by a branch railway. Ore, 60 to 95% grade, exported mostly to France, but also to England. The district further produces potatoes, barley and peat. Exports wool (alpaca, vicuna and sheep), cattle, cheese, salt meat and minerals.

HUANCHACA, a mining village, jointly with Pulacayo, the seat of the Compañia Minera de Huanchaca. English engineers, miners and workmen are employed. The company imports its own merchandise, and allows no private shops. It is joined by rail to Uyuni, the most easterly station of the Antofagasta railway. The company has put up a large electric plant, moved by water power, which will give 2,500 horse power, and will enable the works to be carried on at an immense saving of expense, over £50,000 yearly in coal alone. The important silver mines of San Cristobal, San Vincente and Lipez (two companies) are in this neighbourhood. Population, about 4,000.

LA PAZ is the largest city of the Republic. It has a population of 80,000 and is one of the chief places for the import of goods from the Pacific Coast, by means of railway from Mollendo, steamer on Lake Titicaca from Puno to Guaqui, thence by railway to La Paz. Valuable tin mines are now being worked in the district; and gold mining in Tipuani and the river Kaka has been commenced under favourable auspices. Cinchona, fine gums and resins, cocoa, coca and coffee of the finest quality are grown in this district. The cultivation of india rubber is commencing in the tropical valleys near La Paz, especially on the Challana and Mapiri rivers. La Paz being the seat of government, the greater part of the business of the country is concentrated here. The opening of the railway from Arica to La Paz gives further communication with the coast and reduces the journey to a day.

The centre of sugar cultivation, also rice, coffee and other tropical and sub-tropical products. Owing to the great distance and want of roads, little business is done in proportion to its great natural resources. It trades with the Argentine Republic viâ Yacuiba, by means of the Central-Northern Railway of the Argentine with a terminus at Embarcación on the river Berinejo, and with Europe, partly viâ the river Paraguay, but mainly from the Pacific side. There are petroleum deposits in this district, little worked for lack of capital and railways.

BRAZIL

THE area of the Republic of Brazil has been calculated at 3,218,130 square miles, divided over the following States:—

States.	Capitals.	States.	Capitals.
Amazonas ...	Manáos	Federal District	Rio de Janeiro
Pará	Pará	Rio de Janeiro	Nictheroy
Maranhão....	Maranhão	São Paulo	São Paulo
Piauhy	Therezina	Paraná	Curityba

Pernambuco..	Pernambuco	Goyaz	Goyaz
Alagoas	Maceió	Matto Grosso..	Cuyaba
Sergipe	Aracajú
Bahia	Bahia
Espirito Santo	Victoria

It extends along the Atlantic coast from Guayana in the North to the borders of Uruguay in the South, a distance of about 4,190 miles, and extends inland about 2,500 miles. The population is estimated at 20,000,000.

Brazil possesses three great rivers. The most remarkable is the Amazon; next, the Paraguay (one of the tributaries of the River Plate), and finally the San Francisco. The Amazon, which flows through the territory of the Republic for a distance of more than 500 leagues, receives 18 affluents, nearly all rivers of the first order. They afford uninterrupted navigation for steamers for a distance of 7,351 leagues above the first falls, which exist on the boundaries of the provinces of Pará and Amazonas. By means of the Amazon and its affluents, it is possible to reach the Republics of Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, and Venezuela. For a quarter of a century steamers have been running up and down this river with the greatest regularity, performing in ten days a distance of 580 leagues between Pará and Tabatingo on the frontier of Peru.

COMMERCE.—Brazil is essentially an agricultural country, and produces in the north large quantities of india-rubber, cocoa, sugar cane, piassava, nuts and medicinal plants. The central States principally produce cotton, sugar and tobacco, whilst in the provinces of Minas Geraes, Espirito Santo, Rio de Janeiro and São Paulo coffee is raised, and in the south, cereals, hides &c. The country abounds in mineral wealth, gold, silver, iron, coal and copper mines, besides diamonds and other precious stones.

The Minister in London is Senhor Eduardo Felix Simões dos Santos Lisboa; Legation office, 1 Halkin street S W.

The British Minister in Rio de Janeiro is Sir William Henry Doveton Haggard K.C.M.G., C.B.

CEARA.—The population of the capital, known as Fortaleza or Ceara, is about 60,000. It is the chief port of the state, and is connected by regular steam communication with other parts of the republic. Aracaty, Acarahú and Camocin (the best port) are the other ports.

The Booth Steam Ship Co. Ltd. from Liverpool and New York, run every month to this port, calling at Maranham, Pará and Manáos, there is also one steamer a month to Liverpool and one each month from Buenos Ayres The Hamburg America Line also have a monthly service between this port and Europe. Steamers of various Brazilian companies running up and down the coast, call at more or less regular intervals.

Principal articles exported from Ceará are: cotton, rubber, skins and hides and wax.

Two-thirds of the exports go to Europe, and the remainder to U. S. America, principally skins and wax.

The export of Manicoba rubber is always increasing, planting being carried out on a large scale.

CURITYBA, the capital of the State of PARANA.

The State of Paraná is bounded on the north by the State of São Paulo, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean and the State of Santa Catharina, on the south by the States of Santa Catharina, Rio Grande do Sul and the Argentine Republic, and on the west by the Argentine Republic, Paraguay and the State of Matto Grosso. Its area is about 92,760 square miles, with a population of about 450,000, some 150,000 being foreigners, mostly Poles, Germans and Italians. The coast is tropical and produces all tropical products, such as coffee, sugar cane, bananas &c. The central plateau is temperate, and produces most European agricultural produce. The principal exports are herva matte, timber and bananas, cattle, and hogs. The coffee grown in the north of the State is exported viâ the State of São Paulo. The exports of matte or Paraguayan tea is increasing, principally to the Argentine Republic. The State of Paraná now exports upwards of five-eighths of the total matte consumed.

The State contains two principal seaports—Paranaguá and Antonina—both situated on the vast bay of Paranaguá, and besides Brazilian coasting steamers are served by a direct line from Hamburg—the Hamburg South American S.S. Co. and also by the Lloyd Italiano, Sociedad Anonima Sud Atlantica Empreza A. Lanfranco & Cia. Marina Mercanti Argentina, Campanhia Paulesta de Navegacão &c.

Curityba, the capital and principal centre of business, contains 60,000 inhabitants, is connected by railway with Paranaguá and Antonina, and is the principal centre of the preparation of matte for export, which industry employs 19 mills in the town and suburbs.

MARANHÃO, or SAN LUIZ DE MARANHAO, is a well-sheltered port. The population of the town is 60,000. Maranhão is connected with the chief ports of the republic by the steamers of the Lloyd Brazileiro, which call from the north and south four times a month, and with Ceará, Pará, and the intervening ports, by a special line of steamers belonging to the Cia. Navegação á vapor do Maranhão, running from Maranhão to Pará and to Pernambuco, 2 steamers per month. Small steamers belonging to the Companhia de Navagação a Vapor do Maranhão and Companhia Fluvial, ply on the Itapicurú to Caxias, towing barges to meet Caxias and Theresina Railway trains, which connect the states of Maranhão and Piauhy. The same small steamers also ply on the Mearim and Pindaré as well as other rivers, conveying cotton, sugar, cereals and other produce to Maranhão market. The Booth Line between New York, Maranhão and Ceará, returning to Galveston or Liverpool, and from Liverpool to Maranhão, Cajueiro (for Parnahyba) and Ceará, south to Buenos Aires, returning thence to Amazonian ports to New York, one steamer per month, and also joint service of the Hamburg-Südamerikanische Dampfschifffahrts-Gesellschaft, and Hamburg-Amerika Line, one steamer per month.

The chief products of the district are cotton, sugar, balsam, copal gum, mangabeira rubber, hides, deerskins, all sorts of corn and grain and manioc flour.

There is a considerable industry carried on in cotton spinning and weaving by important mills.

NATAL, the city and capital of the state of Rio Grande do Norte, with a population of 30,000, is situated on the south side of the river about one mile from the coast. The port, the nearest to Europe and the best in Northern Brazil, has been much improved and is now also used as a naval port by the Government; it is a kind of bay formed by the mouth of the river "Potengy." Vessels drawing 21 feet and not over 400 feet long may enter the port on spring tide, which would be one of the most valuable in Brazil were the banks of sand, formed by the river, removed, so as to allow the entrance of large vessels. Improvements have been made allowing vessels drawing 19½ feet or more to enter. Guarapes is about 12 miles above Natal. The ports of Mossoro and Macau are the two other chief ports.

PARÁ or BELEM DO PARÁ, situated in the mouth of the River Amazon. A port has been constructed and ships go alongside of quays for loading and discharging. It is favourably placed for commerce, as it forms one of the principal depôts for the export and import trade of the whole valley of the Amazon, including the Brazilian states of Pará, Amazonas, Matto Grosso and Goyaz, and a large portion of Peru, Bolivia, Venezuela and Ecuador. The population of the town is about 150,000, and of the state 652,000.

The exports consist of india-rubber, cocoa, nuts, tonquin beans, balsam, piassava, isinglass and hides. The principal article of export is India-rubber; 42,859 tons were exported from the Amazon during the year 1912.

The imports consist principally of cotton and woollen goods, machinery, preserved provisions, wine, cutlery, glass and earthenware, cement, knives, wood knives, tools, fancy goods, gin, powder, stationery, electric fittings &c. lumber, furniture, hardware, flour, bacon, lard, kerosene and drugs.

Communication with the southern states is weekly by the Lloyd Brazileiro. Communication with the interior of the state, with the state of Amazonas and Bolivia, through the Amazon and its tributaries, is maintained by a numerous fleet of steamers belonging to the Amazon River Steam Navigation Co. (1911) Ltd.

The trade between Pará and Europe is carried on by the Booth S.S. Co. Limited, of Liverpool, running four steamers monthly from Liverpool, viâ Havre, Vigo, Oporto, Lisbon and Madeira, to the northern ports of Brazil; also the Hamburg-American Line, and the Hamburg Südamerikanische Dampfschifffahrts Gesellschaft, which have been trading to Pará since July, 1902. The Booth S.S. Co. of Liverpool has also steamers running three times a month between this port and New York, calling at Barbados, also a regular service from Liverpool, calling at Continental ports, to Iquitos (Peru), viâ Pará and Manãos, and direct monthly service between New York and Iquitos (Peru) via Pará and Manãos. Also monthly service from Buenos Aires to Manãos calling at Montevideo, Pernambuco, Ceará and Pará.

PARAHYBA is a port on the river of that name, about 12 miles from the sea. There is a railway connecting Parahyba with Cabedello, at the mouth of the Parahyba river, which is now the Port of Parahyba. The population of the town is about 30,000.

The produce consists of cotton, cotton seed, sugar, hides, coffee, maize and farina, cottonseed oil, skins and cottoncake.

A line of railway 167 miles in length connects this port with the port of Natal, the capital of the state of Rio Grande do Norte, also another line connecting with Pernambuco of 133 miles.

ROUTE.—To Pernambuco, thence by coasting vessel or overland by railway. An extension of Great Western of Brazil Railway of Pernambuco has been constructed, connecting that railway with the Conde d'Eu Railway in Parahyba.

PARANAGUÁ is the principal seaport of the Estate of Parana, and has a population of 12,000. The Hamburg-Amerika line in connection with the Hamburg and South American line call regularly in the port of Paranaguá, direct from New York. Two companies, the Lloyd Brazileiro, which calls at Santos, and the Costeira, which makes the voyage direct in 36 hours, run a regular weekly service of passenger steamers from Rio de Janeiro to Paranaguá and Antonina, also an Argentine cargo steamer running to La Plata. These ports are connected with Curityba, the capital of the State, by a railway of 70 miles. The Bay of Paranaguá extends 25 miles inland, and forms a natural harbour. The port at the mouth of a little river about 10 miles up the bay is low-lying and unhealthy, being surrounded by swamps and jungle. Herva matte and the well-known Paraná pinewood (Araucaria) are chiefly exported to the River Plate and Pacific.

PARNAHYBA is situated in the State of Piauhy, on the river of the same name, about nine miles from the sea. The maritime ports are Amarração, for light draft steamers, and Tutoia, where ocean steamers are able to enter and find good anchorage. At the former port steamers of the Cia. Pernambucana and Companhia de Navegação Bahiana make irregular calls, whilst at the latter the Lloyd Brazileiro steamers touch both on their way north and south to Manáos and Rio de Janeiro. The Booth Line, with one steamer per month, from Liverpool and New York, also call at Tutoia for Parnahyba, as well as the Hamburg America Line, one steamer a month. Population about 10,000.

PERNAMBUCO.—The port of Pernambuco, the capital of the State, is the greatest sugar and cotton emporium in the Republic. The town is divided into four quarters or parishes; the Recife, or mercantile portion, contains most of the European houses of business, banks and telegraph offices. The united population of these four quarters, at present about 180,000, renders it the fourth city in importance of the Republic. Recife, the most important of the quarters, is the port through which all the foreign commerce of the State is carried on. The vessels of the following steamship companies trade regularly to this port:—

Austrian: The steamers of the Hungarian Sea Navigation Co. Ltd.

British: The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, Lamport & Holt, Harrisons', Prince Line and Booth Line.

Dutch: Koninklijke Hollandsche Lloyd

French: Compagnie Chargeurs Réunis and the Compagnie de Navigation Sud Atlantique.

German: Hamburg S. A. Dampfschifffahrts Gesellschaft, Hamburg American Line and the North German Lloyd.

Italian: Navigazione Generale Italiana, "Italia," La Veloce & Lloyd Italiano.

The Lloyd Brazileiro possess steamers which carry a large number of passengers, calling at all ports of importance between Rio de Janeiro, Pará and Manáos; Royal Mail Steam Packet Co. Pacific Steam Navigation Co. and Compagnie de Navigation Sud Atlantique steamers to and from Europe anchor in the outer roads. The total number of vessels entered during 1912 was 451, of 1,294,368 tons.

COMMERCE.—The imports consist chiefly of wine, oil, fruit, vegetables (onions, potatoes, &c.), marble and provisions, timber for making matches; flour, beer, paper, steel, glassware, machinery, coal, textiles, codfish, rice, beans, maize, jerked beef and coffee. The exports consist principally of hides and skins, cotton, sugar and carnauba wax.

Lloyd's Agent, J. A. Thom, P.O. Box 46.

PORTO ALEGRE is the capital of the state of Rio Grande do Sul, and has a population of about 145,000. Exports are almost entirely to the northern ports of Brazil (with the exception of hides, tobacco and hair, which are exported principally to Europe), and consist, in addition to these three articles, of lard, beans, mandioca flour, jerked beef, salted pork, leather, hair, eggs, wax, woollens, tinned meats &c. Imports consist of all kinds of manufactured goods and merchandise. Here is a Chamber of Commerce.

RIO GRANDE DO NORTE is the province of which Natal is the capital (for names see under NATAL).

British Vice-Consul, O. d'A. Garcia (acting).

RIO GRANDE DO SUL, or San Pedro do Sul, is the port of the most southern state of the Republic, with a population of 35,000. The state comprises an area of 222,809 square miles and a population o 2,000,000 (1912), of whom about 650,000 are of foreign extraction. The country is wholly agricultural, the one product being cattle, the number of which has been computed at from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000.

There are two large woollen, cotton and jute mills, employing some 2,000 hands.

Lloyd's Agent, Edward J. Wigg.

SANTA CATHARINA.
See DESTERRO.

SANTOS, the only port of the state of São Paulo, is seven miles from the outer bay or entrance. The bay is about 3½ miles wide, with 4 to 10 fathoms of water.

Santos is now the most important commercial centre for coffee in Brazil; population 71,900.

The export trade is of coffee almost exclusively (in 1912, 8,900,000 bags). Articles principally imported are:—Wearing apparel, hats, boots and shoes, hosiery, cotton, woollen and linen fabrics, wine, beer, provisions, jewellery, fancy goods, stationery, glass, porcelain, crockery, medicines, surgical instruments, cutlery, hardware, earthenware, agricultural implements, railway and tram car stock and plant, gas work and water work plant and materials, machinery and iron work of every description, flour, oil, vegetable and mineral, lumber &c. &c. &c. also large quantities of codfish.

The total imports during 1912 were valued at £16,579,887, and the exports at £35,342,338.

The harbour of Santos has spacious and safe anchorage up to 25 ft. draught. The accommodation, hitherto quite inadequate, has been much ameliorated by the building of the new docks owned by the Cia. dos Docas de Santos, which afford ample anchorage and allow cargoes to be discharged direct into the wagons of the São Paulo Railway Co. The total number of vessels entered during 1912 was 1,175 of 3,717,992 tons.

The city of Santos is connected with São Paulo and the interior by the English São Paulo Railway Company, and other railroads with a total of about 1,500 miles of rails. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (Associação Commercial).

CHILI

THE Republic of Chili is the most southerly state on the west side of the continent of South America, extending 2,600 miles on the Pacific coast south of Peru to Cape Horn, and having a breadth of 40 to 200 miles. The mineral resources of the country are extensive; gold, silver, tin, copper and coal are mined to a large extent; there exist nitrate of soda, mercury, iron, zinc, nickel, antimony, arsenic, manganese, sulphur and borate of lime, cobalt &c.; the deposits of copper are said to be inexhaustible. The area is about 293,000 square miles; and the population in 1908 was estimated to be 3,302,204. The capital is Santiago.

The quantity of nitrate of soda exported during 1912 was 54,197,439 quintals.

British Minister at Santiago, Francis Wm. Stronge, esq

The Chilian Minister in Great Britain is Señor Augustin Edwards, Legation, 18 Grosvenor square w.

The Chilian Consul in London is Don Vicente Echeverria, 94 Gracechurch street E C.

ANTOFAGASTA.—A port in the north of Chili; population, 32,496.

This port is 640 miles north of Valparaiso, with which it is in constant communication by steam. It is also in direct steam communication with all ports lying north to San Francisco, California and south to Sandy Point (Puenta Arenas) in the straits of Magellan. It is the port for easiest transit of merchandise to all the principal towns and mining centres in Bolivia, being connected with Oruro, in Bolivia, by railway, from which town there are good roads to Cochabamba, Colquechaca, Lipez &c. Merchandise for Potosi, Sucre and South Bolivia leaves the railway at Uyuni. Goods for Bolivia are passed through a Bolivian custom house agency in Antofagasta and pay duties in the agency.

The principal exports are—all produce of Bolivia, such as silver, tin in bar and barilla, copper barilla, bismuth, antimony, coca and coffee &c. Products of the department—silver, gold, nitrate, borate of lime, copper and iodine. The amount of nitrate exported from this district in 1912 was 33,564,770 quintals.

Imports, all articles of general consumption and especially such as are required in mining.

CALDERA is the chief port of the province, and has a population of 3,000.

THE PORT.—Caldera, with its large and well protected bay, is the port of Copiapo (for names of merchants &c. at Copiapo, see separate heading for that place). It is connected with Copiapo by a railway, which extends in three directions to a considerable distance inland, reaching Santiago de Chili and Iquique, and feeding several minor towns and an extensive mineral district.

The imports consist mainly of coal and coke, dry and fancy goods of all sorts, railway material, hardware and mining machinery.

The exports consist chiefly of copper, gold and silver &c.

CHAÑARAL. — As regards Chañaral, it is a small minor port, 65 miles south of Taltal. About 1890, Chañaral was reduced from a port of entry to one of call (puerto menor), and vessels bringing English or foreign coals must call at Valparaiso or Caldera to receive customs documents for despatch. Direct calls may be made by foreign ships, the necessary permit being obtained. There exists in Chañaral a considerable mining industry and two large copper reducing works, owned by the Société de Mines & Usines de Cuivre de Chañaral. This company ship its products to England and U.S.A or to any smelters of bar copper on this coast. All their product i returned into regulus containing from 50 to 56 per cent. of copper. Population of Chañaral is 2,928.

COPIAPO (11,617 inhabitants) is the capital of the province of Atacama, principal mining city and district of Chili, 50 miles inland from the Port of Caldera. Its commerce, which is of great importance, consists in silver, gold and copper, the mines being worked in part by foreign capital. All supplies &c. pass through Caldera, the principal sea-port, connected with Copiapo by railway. A railway from the port of Chañaral now runs to Copiapo and another from Vallenar to Copiapo (The Longitudinal).

The imports consist mainly of coal and coke, dry and fancy goods of all sorts, railway material, hardware and mining machinery.

The exports consist chiefly of copper, gold and silver.

CORONEL is the chief town and European mail port of the province of Lautaro. It is the principal coaling port on the coast, and has grown into great importance since the construction of the Arauco railway; the trains run to and from Concepcion three times a day. About 80 large steamers call here monthly for coal, and over 900,000 tons of coal is shipped annually. Owing to the railway communication with Concepcion and the State railways, the quantity of cargo discharged here is greatly on the increase, the facilities for despatching goods through the new custom house being very quick and satisfactory. Population, 5,258.

LA SERENA is the capital of the province of Coquimbo, with 24,425 inhabitants; situated about 9 miles from Coquimbo (Harbour), with which it is connected by railway; is the centre of a large agricultural interest and grazing ground. The principal export is copper ore, but there is also gold, silver, manganese, sulphur, cobalt &c. The populat on is mostly occupied in agriculture and mining. Large quantities of cattle, sheep and mules, donkeys, goats and horses are also bred and fattened in the province and shipped to northern parts of Chili. Horses, mules and donkeys are also shipped to Peru and Bolivia. The railway also runs to Ovalle and Santiago and other places, about 100 miles south and some 50 miles into the interior of the rich Elqui valley. Serena is more a residential place and the business is principally retail. The large exporting houses are established in Coquimbo.

Cia. Maderera Malvoa (timber merchants &c)

LOTA, population 12,500, is situated in the department of Lautaro, at the Bay of Arauco, and is a good seaport. Extensive coal mines exist, and coal is largely exported by the Lota Company for the coast of Chili, and for steamers' consumption &c. There are also extensive copper smelting and fire brick works, all being the property of the Lota Company. The only exports are bar copper to England, France and Germany, and hides, raw and tanned, to Germany.

PUNTA ARENAS, situated on the STRAITS OF MAGELLAN, capital and commercial centre of the territory of Magellan, the southernmost division of Chili, is about 1,300 miles from Santiago; the population is 13,000, and 5,000 in the country and Tierra del Fuego and adjoining islands. It is the most important shipping point south of Buenos Aires and Valparaiso. Exports: wool, sheep and fur skins, lumber, whale products, hides raw and dressed, refrigerated and preserved meat and tallow and other meat products: imports: clothing, provisions and general merchandise. The principal industries are sheep farming, cattle raising, tanning, seal and whale fishing, meat preserving and saw mills. Coal is also worked, and a railway has been constructed to the mine, 7 miles distant.

There are eleven regular overseas steamer lines, viz.: Pacific Steam Navigation Co. (agents, Stubenrauch & Co.), fortnightly; Kosmos Line (agent, Walter Curtze); Lamport & Holt Line monthly (agents, Braun & Blanchard); New York and Pacific S.S. Co. from New York monthly (agents, Braun & Blanchard); New York & South American S.S. Co. monthly (agents, Braun & Blanchard); Gulf Line (F. & W. Ritson) fortnightly (agents, Braun & Blanchard); Houlder Line (agents, Braun & Blanchard); also running "West Coast" Line (Wessel, Duval & Co.) from New York (agents, Stubenrauch & Co.); Roland Line fortnightly (agents, Engelbert Hardt & Co.) and Hamburg-South American Line from River Plate to this port and intermediates (agents, Michel Rooze & Co.).

TALCAHUANO, population, about 36,000, is the port of Concepçion, south of Valparaiso, on Concepçion Bay. Talcahuano is the second importing custom-house in Chile, and the leading grain export port of the Republic. It is a naval station and has a fine dry dock. Another dock, capable of accommodating vessels of 30,000 tons displacement, is at present in course of construction. Talcahuano is the terminus to the 3rd section of the State railway which connects it directly with Santiago and Valparaiso, also as far south as Puerto Montt. Every facility is therefore afforded for forwarding merchandise, &c. to any part of the interior. It is a 12 hours' journey by express train from here to Santiago. The imports, which have greatly increased lately, consist of woollen and cotton goods from Great Britain and Germany, iron, coals, cement and general merchandise from Great Britain, rice and jute bags from India and paraffin and other mineral oils from the United States. The exports consist chiefly of wheat, flour, barley, honey, kidney-beans, carob-beans, chick peas, lentils and wool. Wine is extensively grown in the surrounding district.

TOCOPILLA, province of Antofagasta, is one of the free ports situated in the department of the same name; population, 4,000. Tocopilla is essentially a nitrate shipping port, and its prosperity mainly and chiefly depends upon the production of this product. The quantity exported in 1912 was 2,904,293 metric quintals (about 290,000 English tons), and iodine 92,218 kilogs. Copper ores, which give a ley of 14 to 50%, amounting to 6,000 to 8,000 tons, are produced annually.

TONGOY is a port in the province of COQUIMBO, about 40 miles from Serena, the provincial city. It is connected with the copper mines of Tamaya by railway, recently acquired by the Government. The railway extension places the port in direct communication with the town of Ovalle and connects with the Longitudinal Railway—capital of the department of same name—distant 48 miles. The principal article of export is copper. It has no direct importation, being a minor port. All articles are purchased in Coquimbo or Valparaiso. Population 2,700, including suburbs.

VALPARAISO is the chief seaport in Chile, with a population of 179,815, and the financial centre for mercantile transactions as far north as Arica. It is also the commercial centre from which a large portion of the merchandise imported is distributed to the ports on the coast and the towns in the interior.

Chief export items are copper, barley, wheat, manganese, silver, pressed hay, potatoes and wine.

This port is in regular steam communication with the whole west coast of the American continent, with New York and Europe, viâ the Isthmus of Panamá, and with the eastern coast, and also with Lisbon, Liverpool and Hamburg, viâ the Straits of Magellan, by the steamers of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, Lamport and Holt Line, Gulf Line &c. and of the German Kosmos line and Roland Line. There are also bi-monthly sailings to Australian ports by cargo boats, which carry a limited number of passengers.

BARRANQUILLA, the capital of the Departamento del Atlantico, with about 50,000 inhabitants, is situated on the western bank of the Magdalena river, six miles above its principal mouth, called Bocas de Cenizas; is connected with Puerto Colombia by a railway 17 miles long (English company). It has several manufactories of articles such as soap, perfumery, candles, bricks and tiles, cotton ginning, weaving and packing, matches, boots and shoes &c. The principal exports consist of coffee, timber, ivory nuts, gold and silver in dust and bars, straw hats (known as Panama hats), raw hides, mineral ore, balsams, crocodile skins, birds' feathers and skins, cotton, dividivi, rubber and tobacco. This city is, as regards industry and commerce, the capital of the country, and the port is by far the most important of any in Colombia. It is connected with the interior by several steamship companies. This city, as the centre of commerce and industry, is destined, by its position, to reach ahead of all other Colombian ports, especially as the mouth of the Magdalena river, Boca Ceniza, may soon be opened, which will convert Barranquilla into an ocean port.

HONDA, population 11,000, is situated on the western bank of the river Magdalena, some 21 miles above the landing place called La Dorada, and Arrancaplumas is located about two miles above Honda, also on the western bank. The "Dorada" Railway connects La Dorada with Honda and Arrancaplumas. The Dorada railway is now extended to Beltran, under the name of "The Dorada Extension Railway Co." An iron bridge was built in 1898 across the Magdalena about halfway between Honda and Arrancaplumas. The bulk of the Bogotá cargo goes to Beltran (via Mariquita, San Lorenzo and Santuario) by the railway, and from Beltran to Girardot in the boats of the Columbian Navigation Co. Ltd.

SANTAMARTA BAY is the most convenient and best sheltered anchorage on the coast of the Republic, 110 miles N.E. of Cartagena. It has a growing trade in bananas. The extension of the Santa Marta railway to the river Fundacion, has opened up an extensive territory for the cultivation of bananas, while the large coffee plantations located on the slopes of the mountains near the city are being still further developed with increasing results. Supplies are received from New York by the steamers of the United Fruit Co. & the Hamburg-American Line. The population is about 10,000.

QUITO is the capital of the Republic. Population about 80,000, principally Indians. The commerce is of little importance; agriculture and cattle breeding are the principal industries, but apart from local supplies there is no market. The journey to Guayaquil, the chief port in the republic, takes about two days by railroad. Imports are confined to such articles of consumption and wearing apparel as are not manufactured on the spot, and are brought from Guayaquil, few merchants importing direct from abroad.
Lloyd's Sub-Agent, Otto Reinhardt.

SANTA ELENA (GUAYAS), 500 inhabitants. The town is situated about 1½ miles from the small harbour of Ballenita.

In spite of coral reefs, which render the entrance somewhat difficult, in the harbour itself there is good anchorage, with sufficient depth of water for large vessels.

Santa Elena is a small village only, and is not opened to the foreign import trade, but dependent on Guayaquil.

The principal products of the district are hat straw. There are large quantities of hats manufactured in this canton.

There are also salt mines in the vicinity of Santa Elena, which produce the supply for the whole Republic. This is a government monopoly. Petroleum wells exist in the district.

PARAGUAY

THIS Republic is situated in the central part of South America, is bounded on the north by Bolivia, on the north and east by Brazil, and on the south-east, south and west by Argentina. The area is stated at about 171,204 square miles; the population in 1910 was estimated to be 752,000, including 50,000 Indians, a great part of whom are in a savage state.

The country is rich in woods of all kinds; iron, copper and other minerals exist, but do not repay the trouble of extracting them, it is said; cotton is indigenous and the Ramie jute, mapojo and other fibrous plants, the latter growing luxuriously and being used by the natives in the manufacture of clothing.

Sugar growers are as numerous as the agriculturists in the province of Caraguatay, for sugar-cane, tobacco, maize and mandioca are grown by all of them. Nearly all the sugar consumed in this country is imported. The greatest part of the juice of the sugar-cane is employed in distilling spirits.

The existing railway system is to be extended to the banks of the river Paraná, thus going through the richest part of the country, and affording direct and speedy communication with the leading shipping ports of the Argentine Confederation.

The imports consist of general provisions, wines and spirits, cotton goods, hardware of all kinds, furniture and clothing, one third of which come from Great Britain, and the exports consist of yerba, hides, tobacco, oranges, quebracho extract, hardwoods &c.

The British Minister for Paraguay is Sir Reginald Thomas Tower, K.C.M.G., C.V.O.; residence, Buenos Ayres.

The Consul-General in London for Paraguay is Mr. Alfred James, 18 Eldon street E C.

Consul-General at Liverpool, William E. Nelson.

Consuls.—Birmingham, Alfred S. Chovil; Cardiff, John Povey; Glasgow, Thomas Dunlop; Liverpool, Alfred Stephen Collard; Manchester, Walter Beer; Southampton, William John Baker.

The Export & Import trade of Paraguay during 1912 amounted to Paper Dollars 1,228,100,030.

The monetary unit of Paraguay is the Gold Peso, about 4s. 0d. British and $0·965 United States. (The currency is the Paper Dollar=5d. (British).

ASUNCION is the capital of the Republic, and has a population of about 75,000 inhabitants. The town is provided with a port. Its exports consist of cocoa oil and many other oils, dried meat, hides, timber, tobacco, bananas, and a great quantity of oranges, the crop of which amounts to between 25 and 30 millions. There are two lines of steamers plying between this port and Buenos Aires, one line runs two regular passenger steamers weekly, the other runs one. There is also a service of the Brazilian Lloyd boats (passengers and cargo) (one every three weeks) between Monte Video and Corumba, calling at Buenos Aires and Asuncion. The Marina Argentina Mercante steamship line runs a fleet of five steamers between Buenos Aires and Asuncion.

PERU

THIS Republic is bounded on the north by Ecuador, on the south by Chili and Bolivia, and on the east by Brazil. The coast line extends to about 1,500 miles and the area was estimated at upwards of 500,000 square miles; its population, according to an estimate census in 1896, amounted to 4,609,999 inhabitants, exclusive of about 350,000 Indians.

The mountain ranges of the Andes run from end to end of the country, at a distance of about 60 miles from the Pacific coast. East of this range the country is of great fertility and produces in abundance coffee, cotton, sugar, cocoa, copaiba, india-rubber, bark, sarsaparilla, and probably the finest grapes in the world. The country is also rich in minerals, gold, silver, lead, quicksilver, copper, coal and nitrates existing in abundance. Salt deposits also exist in vast quantities, said to be inexhaustible, being formed by percolation of the sea water through a porous rock. Very important petroleum beds in the north department of Piura have been discovered and are worked.

The principal items of export are precious metals, sugar, coffee, rubber, alpaca and sheep's wool, hides and skins, tobacco, salt, cotton, cinchona bark &c.

The imports consist principally of coals, wheat and dry goods.

The British Minister in Lima is Ernest Amelius Rennie esq. M.V.O.

The Peruvian Minister in Great Britain is Señor Don Carlos G. Candamo, Legation office, 104 Victoria street S W

Peruvian Consul-General in London, Eduardo Lembeke, 104 Victoria street S W.

CALLAO, population about 40,000, is the principal port of Peru, and the safest and most commodious on the South Pacific coast. The lines of steamers trading between Europe, the United States and the Pacific coast are Lamport & Holt's Line, the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, the Gulf Line, the West Coast Line, the New York & Pacific Steamship Co. and the New York & South America S. S. Line. The three latter trade between the United States and the West coast. The "Kosmos" Line of Hamburg and the Roland Linie also trade with the West coast. The Compañia Sud America has almost the same itineraries as those of the coasting steamers of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company. A company, called the Cia. Peruana de Vapores y Dique del Callao, runs between Callao and Valparaiso and also between Callao and Panama. All these companies have their agents in Callao and Lima. The distance between Lima and Callao is only seven miles. Trains run between both places twice every hour, and electric tramcars every five minutes. All the principal commercial houses are in Lima. There is a wet dock and also a floating dock.

The Callao export trade is of some importance. The exports consist of cotton and wool, sugar in bags, coffee, chancaca, cascarilla bark, cocaine, ores, copper, metals and hides, chiefly for the United Kingdom, United States and the continent. The P.S.N.C. steamers with goods usually tranship to their home boats at Valparaiso, but they have also cargo and passenger steamers plying direct between England and Peruvian coast.

Lloyd's Sub-Agents, H. M. Beausire & Co. Lima.

MOLLENDO, capital of the province of Islay, is a town with 7,000 inhabitants; it is considered to be the second port of Peru, although merely a port of transit for discharge of manufactured goods for the markets in the interior and shipment of exports from the south of Peru and part of Bolivia. The principal interior towns are Arequipa, Puno and Cuzco in Peru, and La Paz, the capital of Bolivia.

Exports consist chiefly of alpaca and sheep's wool, bark, metals of all kinds, hides, coca, rubber &c. Borate of lime is largely exported.

URUGUAY

THE Republic of Uruguay is situated at the most southern part of Brazil, at the inlet of the Rio de la Plata, bounded on the west by the Argentine Republic, from which it is separated by the river Uruguay, on the north and north-east by Brazil, on the south by the Rio de la Plata, and on the east by the Atlantic. The area of this Republic is stated at about 72,000 English square miles. The population in October, 1908, was 1,039,078, of whom about 198,000 are foreigners.

COMMERCE.—The chief industry of the country consists in the rearing of cattle, horses and sheep and the growing of cereals, also to some small extent of tobacco, olives and grapes. Enormous quantities of cattle are annually slaughtered for their hides and tallow.

One of the most important establishments in the Republic is the one situated at Fray Bentos, on the banks of the river Uruguay, where the famous "Liebig's Extract of Meat" is made.

Another important industry is the export of meat in a frozen state, which under the present Directorate promises to prove another outlet for the surplus stock of cattle and sheep of this country.

The most important industry, however, of Uruguay is that of the beef salting establishments (saladeros), and which give the principal percentage of the exports in the shape of "Charque," bone ash, bones &c. to the amount of 93·51 per cent. of the whole exports of the country.

PAYSANDU.—This town is the capital of the Department of the same name, and has a population of 26,000. Next to Montevideo it is the most important commercial centre of the Republic. It is situated at the head of the navigable portion of the great river Uruguay for deep-sea vessels, and is the head quarters of the Midland Uruguay Railway Co. Its principal commerce consists in cattle and the export of saladero and agricultural produce, viz., hides, tallow, horns, jerked beef, preserved tongues, maize, wheat and alfalfa (lucerne).

VENEZUELA

THIS Republic is situated at the extreme north of the South American continent, being bounded on the north by the Caribbean Sea and the Atlantic Ocean, on the south by the Republic of Brazil, on the west by Colombia, and on the east by British Guiana. The area is 1,020,400 kilomètres, or about 398,594 square miles, and the population in 1908 was estimated to be 2,664,241.

The size and natural wealth of Venezuela are not generally realized. Its greatest length is calculated as being nearly 1,000 miles, and its greatest width about 800 miles. Its coast line is estimated at about 2,000 miles, with numerous harbours. Much of its area is cultivatable land, and parts of it are extraordinarily fertile.

Venezuela is probably the richest Republic of South America as regards natural resources and the easy means of developing them, being traversed in every direction by rivers, tributaries of the Orinoco, which connect it with the Amazon. The country is principally agricultural, the products being coffee and cocoa; also sugar cane, bananas, cotton, indigo, cocoa nuts, Indian corn &c. There are also vast plains where the breeding of cattle is carried on to a great extent, for the sake of their hides, which are exported. Rubber, copaiba and other articles of value are produced.

Venezuela's mineral wealth is as yet practically untouched and apparently as inexhaustible. There is hardly a mineral which is not found here: iron, coal, petroleum, gold, silver, copper, lead &c. are found in every direction. The working of these mines ought, under improved conditions, among which may be mentioned those of land traffic and transit, to add greatly to the wealth of the country.

Venezuela is already provided by nature with a magnificent water system in the rivers of the Orinoco and its 458 tributaries and the Apure, and when once these great natural arteries are supplemented by feeders in the form of roads, a new era of prosperity should dawn for the country.

One of the most noticeable sources of mineral wealth is that of the asphalte lakes, apparently forming part of the same system in which is included the famous pitch lake in the neighbouring Island of Trinidad.

The Venezuelan Minister in London is Dr. Don Santos A. Dominici, 146 Coleherne court, South Kensington S W.

British Min. Res. at Caracas is Fredc. Dundas Harford esq. C.V.O.

Consul in London, P. C. Heyden, 10 Eastcheap E C.

CARACAS, the capital of the Republic, has a population of about 85,000 inhabitants. It is a great commercial centre, 38 kilometres by rail from La Guayra, the principal seaport of the country. Cocoa is produced in certain districts of the eastern coast of Venezuela (Barlovento), and also in Ocumare de la Costa, to the west, between La Guayra and Pto. Cabello. This latter is of a finer and more expensive quality. The coffee produced in Venezuela, especially that of the cold districts, is of a very fine grade.

CARÚPANO.—The port and city of Carúpano, belonging to the State of BERMUDEZ, is situated on the north coast of the Republic of Venezuela, upon the Caribbean Sea. The population is about 10,000. The climate is most healthy, and the port is a small and open bay.

Carúpano sustains a very active commerce with Europe and the United States, its principal exports consisting of cocoa, coffee, leather, balata, rum, timber and hides; cocoa being by far the most important.

The imports consist of French, English, German, Spanish and American goods.

At about 5 miles from the port are situated the so-called "Mines of Carúpano," containing gold, silver, copper, galena, kaolin, manganese.

More in the interior (at about 10 miles from the port) are also abundant mines of coal and sulphur.

An important asphalt deposit in existence at Guanoco.

CIUDAD BOLIVAR, formerly known as Angostura, is situated on the right bank of the river Orinoco, and is distant from the grand mouth of the Orinoco about 325 miles. The population is 15,000. Fully one half the imports are of British manufacture.

Ciudad Bolivar commands, from the river Orinoco, all the interior of the country between Brazil and Colombia, through the 100 odd rivers that fall into it. Many small steamers start from here up the rivers Apure, Arauca, Meta, Guaviare &c.; some go up to the frontier of Colombia, within three days' distance, by mule, from Bogotá. They bring back quantities of cattle, afterwards distributed to Trinidad, Demerara, Cayenne &c. also Tonca beans, coffee, balata, tobacco, balsam copaiba, simaruba, cacao, india rubber, coffee, hides and precious woods.

The principal articles of export are copaiba oil, coffee, rubber, hides, deerskins, gold bullion, tobacco, Tonca beans, heron feathers & cattle. The total value of the exports during 1912 was £920,526.

IMPORTS. — In textiles Great Britain holds her own, but in hardware, crockery, chemicals, drugs, oils, barbed wire, cement, perfumes and cutlery, the United States and Germany take a large share of the trade. The total value of the imports during 1912 was £442,352.

MARACAIBO has a population of about 60,000, with a good harbour formed by a bay of the lake, Maracaibo being built all around that bay on the north side.

Maracaibo is the shipping place for all goods imported and exported by merchants in Cúcuta (COLOMBIA) and its mercantile dependencies, and of the States Trujillo, Merida, and Tachira, connected by the La Ceiba, the Sta. Bárbara-Zulia and the Tachira railways. The railways do not run to Maracaibo, but to other parts on the Lake, where they connect with steamers from Maracaibo.

The principal export from this port is coffee. The other exports are cocoa, Peruvian bark, hides, skins (goat skins and some deer skins), copaiba, fustic, dividivi, and various other articles, as bastard ebony, brown sugar &c.

Asphaltum mines have attracted the attention of capitalists on account of its excellent quality. The mines are near the coast of the lake, and asphaltum exists there in enormous quantities, liquid as well as in hard condition.

The best mail communication with Maracaibo is via New York, with steamers of the Red "D" line twice a month, New York to Maracaibo; and twice a month, New York via Puerto Rico, Curaçao to Maracaibo. Here is a Chamber of Commerce.

WEST INDIES

CUBA

THIS island is the largest of the West Indies. The area is 44,164 square miles. The population in 1910 was 2,150,112. On January 1st, 1899, Spanish sovereignty in Cuba ceased, and its occupation by the military forces of the United States commenced. This ended on May 20th, 1902, when the control of the island was handed over to the new Cuban Government. An insurrection broke out in August, 1906, and the island was placed under the Provisional Government of a Commissioner appointed by the United States of America. The Provisional Government was ended in January, 1909, and a new president assumed office.

The principal trade is with the United States of America, which takes nearly all of the exports of fruit, sugar, minerals and tobacco.

The principal industries of Cuba are the production of sugar, cigars and tobacco. The minor exports are cabinet and dye woods, honey, wax, sponges, manganese, iron & copper ores and fruit. The total sugar crop during 1912 was 1,895,984 tons, of which 1,652,996 tons were exported to the United States of America. The value of the tobacco exported during 1911-12 was:—leaf tobacco, $17,153,156; cigars, $12,463,590; cigarettes, $454,252; cut tobacco, $352,623.

The principal imports into Cuba are flour, rice, potatoes, dried codfish, groceries, wines and liquors, machinery, woollen and cotton goods, crockery, hardware, glassware, cattle, maize, lard, beer, and "tasajo" (dried beef). Flour is imported from Spain and the United States. The bulk of the rice comes from India, viâ Liverpool, a small amount from Spain and the United States. Potatoes are imported from the United States, Spain, and the Canary Islands, codfish from the United States and Canada, and a small amount from Europe, groceries chiefly from the United States, wines and liquors almost entirely from Spain. The greater part of the sugar machinery comes from the United Kingdom; agricultural implements from the United States. Almost all tools are of American manufacture, Germany and the United Kingdom supplying few.

Envoy Extraordinary & Minister Plenipotentiary, General Carlos Garcia Vélez; Legation, 76 Victoria street S.W.

Minister Resident & Consul-General (at Havana), Stephen Leech esq.

Consul in London, Don Gustav Navarrete y Romay, 40 Trinity square E C.

Consul-General in Liverpool, Don Julian Ayala y Cruz Prieto.

HAVANA, the capital of Cuba.—This town had a population in 1910 of 319, 84. The port possesses one of the finest harbours in the West Indies, admitting vessels of the deepest draught.

COMMERCE.—The exports are almost exclusively sugar and cigars. There is a floating dry dock which can accommodate any size vessels.

Here is a Chamber of Commerce (Amargura, 11-2º).

Lloyd's Agent, Aquilino Ordonez, Cuba, 76.
